COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody, Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulæ, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great, blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Canthrarides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair growers.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

DOES THE NORTH WANT THE TRUTH?

The history of Southern heroism and Southern civilization, entitled "Half Hours in Southern History, written by Prof. J. Leslie Hall, of William and Mary College, and published in beautiful form by the B. F. Johnson Company, of Richmond, has been scornfully received by some of the leading papers of the north. The Cleveland (Ohio) Plain Dealer, after speaking favorably of the chapters on the so-called "Old South," says: "His people were thrashed, thrashed with terrible severity, by a bigger brother who was stalwart enough to administer the merited chastisement. And the insult of having been whipped still rankles, even though the most partisan writer cannot but admit that there was no other course possible. Undoubtedly the book will be read with hearty approval by the apparently increasing class of southerners who seek to revivify the almost forgotten animosities."

In a similar spirit the New York Sun says: "It was to be hoped that the foolish and mischievous spirit shown in 'Half Hours in Southern History' was completely extinct. The author has a perfect right to believe in extreme State rights and in the justice of the Southern cause. He prefers abuse to argument, however. With his sketches of eminent Southerners except for the comments interjected, there is no fault to find; the great men of our history before the war belong to the whole country, and even to the Confederate heroes like Lee and Jackson the North now does full justice. An extract will show the author's method: "John Marshall, also, unconsciously forged chains to bind his state and his people. Selected as chief-justice by John Adams, the retiring Federal prated the constitution in such a way as to make himself one of the few Southern man that have never been abused by billingsgate orators of the North and claptrap professors of history."

In far happier vein, however, the New England Journal of Education says: "No book could be more welcome or of greater service. Prof. Hall was a mere boy when the civil war closed, so that he has none of the relationship to that war, for good or ill, which would have been probable had he been born ten years earlier. His university work was done at Johns Hopkins, which gave a good blending of northern and southern associations. He is in a historian with a national reputation to maintain, and as a historian he writes.

Of course he is a Southern man, and he must hold his Southern audience, which he has certainly done, but he has not done it by appealing to prejudices but by magnifying, primarily, the early glory of the southland, and by making personal heroes of the individuals who manifested bravery in various fields. The method of treatment is fascinating. It is the modern paragrapher's ideal in that each special subject—about 220—is put with all the glow of the essayist. It is a book that will be read by all southern students and scholars, and it should be read as universally in the north. It would do us all good."

The book is being received most enthusiastically by great Southern papers and prominent men of the South. An eminent authority on the South says. "I regard your work as one of the most valuable to the South, and especially to the young people of the South, that has come under my observation since the war."

The Norfolk Landmark, in an editorial says: He is aggressive, polemical, often vehement in the assertion of the South's services and sacrifices, but there is rarely a trace of bitterness in his work."

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds! Strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these Nerves—re-establish them as needed, with Collapse of Flooring.

At the laying of the cornerstone of St. Mary's Greek Catholic Church at Wilkes Barre, Pa., yesterday afternoon, a ing about 60 persons into the cellar, 12 feet below. For over an hour the utmost excitement prevailed. The screams of those in the wreckage and the groans from the injured could be heard for a block away. Ladders were secured from neighboring factories, and with the aid of the police the injured were removed from their perilous position. Some were able to walk to their homes, while others were removed to hospitals in ambulances. The accident, it is said, was due to insufficient bracing beneath the new floor.

Bishop Hoban, of Scranton, who went down with the crash, was first reported to be seriously hurt. He was reached by friends and removed to a place of safety. He was badly shaken up, but fortunately escaped injury. Six priests were injured.

Let me mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Address me, Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Trouble of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys, as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bleating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write for my free Book now. SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 31, 1907.

THE EXPECTED declaration by the President upon the railroad question was made yesterday by Mr. Roosevelt in his address on the occasion of the unveiling of the Lawton monument at Indianapolis. Why the occasion of the unveiling of a monument on Decoration Day should have been selected as the time for the enunciation of his views on railroad management is not exactly clear. The following are some of his points:

Rights of property can only be preserved if we remember that they are in less jeopardy from the socialist and the anarchist than from the predatory man of wealth.

The power of the nation must be exerted to stop crimes of cunning no less than crimes of violence.

Every federal law dealing with corporations or railroads that has been put on the statute books during the last six years has been a step in advance in the right direction.

There can be no swerving from the course that has been thus mapped out in the legislation actually enacted and in the messages in which I have asked for further legislation.

The federal government will thus be able to prevent any man hereafter from plundering others by loading railway properties with obligations and pocketing the money, instead of spending it in improvements.

The movement to regulate railways by law has come to stay. The people of this country have made up their minds.

The rights of innocent investors should not be jeopardized by legislation or executive action.

Let the local attorneys of the big roads keep out of politics; and when they have to appear before the national or any State legislature, let their names be put on a special register, and let their business be aboveboard and open.

The tremendous project of taking all the rights of railroad regulation away from the States and into the hands of the federal government is advanced by Mr. Roosevelt. The reasoning under which the President believes such a project to be possible and legitimate is in the argument that all the railroads carry the mails and can therefore be considered as post roads. On the same grounds the government should take

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT in his speech at the semi-centennial celebration of the founding of agricultural colleges in the United States at Lansing, Mich., today among other things said:

Educational establishments should produce highly trained scholars, of course; but in a country like ours, where the educational establishments are so numerous, it is folly to think that their main purpose is to produce these highly trained scholars. It must be remembered that the ordinary graduate of our colleges should be and must be, primarily, a man and not a scholar.

Book learning is very important but it is by no means everything; and we shall never get the right idea of education until we definitely understand that a man may be well trained in book-learning and yet, in the proper sense of the word, and for all practical purposes, be utterly uneducated.

The best crop is the crop of children; the best products of the farm are the men and women raised thereon. I have not the slightest sympathy with those hysterical and foolish creatures who wish women to attain to easy lives by shirking their duties. I have as hearty a contempt for the woman who shirks her duty of bearing and rearing the children, of doing her full housewife's work, as I have for the man who is an idler, who shirks his duty of earning a living for himself and for his household, or who is selfish or brutal toward his wife and children.

GOVERNOR HUGHES on Wednesday sent to the New York Senate his veto of the "School Teachers' Equal Pay" bill. Two distinct grounds were set forth in his message—that the pay to be given to the teachers rested entirely within the discretion of the Board of Education of New York city, and that the broad proposition "equal pay for equal work," while an attractive one, was too big for the Legislature to take up hastily, and, if taken up by the Legislature, should be made to apply to all cities and all through the state civil service. This veto sets at naught all the frantic lobbying done by the women both before and after Mayor McClellan vetoed the measure—lobbying such as never was seen in Albany before, which on every side was termed an open scandal—lobbying which caused Speaker Wadsworth on several occasions to order the women from the floor of the assembly. Already there is talk of passing the bill over the governor's veto, but even Senator White, the measure's most enthusiastic supporter, seems not to feel sanguine about its chances. Some such effort, though, may be made next week.

FOREIGN markets are absorbing an increasing share of the manufactures produced in the United States, according to a report issued today by the Bureau of Statistics. The foreigners buy American manufactures goods cheaper than they are sold at home.

To prevent smuggling President Roosevelt has created a 60-foot reservation along the northern border of Mexico.

From Washington.

Washington, May 31.

The point raised by the Standard Oil Company, in fighting the government's efforts to have it dissolved, has temporarily delayed the proposed suit against the powder trust. The bill in that case, as in the Standard, recites the operation of the so-called trust from the date of its first organization. Should the circuit court of the Eighth circuit strike from the government's bill all references to the Standard prior to its incoporation under the laws of New Jersey in 1899, as has been just demanded by the Standard's council at St. Paul, the governments bill to be filed against the powder trust will have to be re-drafted, as it has been prepared identically along the lines of the Erie suit. The Department of Justice hopes that the circuit court may hand dowd its decision within a few weeks.

Enough sugar was produced in the United States in 1906 to supply the population in the western two thirds of the United States or one third of the whole amount of sugar consumed in this country. This statement was made today by Charles F. Saylor, special agent of the agricultural department for the study of the best sugar industry. He says the factories received larger supplies of beets than any other time, since the manufacture was taken up, many of them getting more than it was practical to turn into sugar. During the year more plants were built than in any preceding year.

The final proclamation of the new tariff agreement with Germany may be delayed a day or two. It is all ready for publication but the State Department deems it advisable to await the receipt of the actual ratifications from Germany before issuing the Presidential proclamation.

U. S. Minister Pierce today notified the State Department that the Norwegian government is sending the cruiser Harold Haarfagre to represent it at the Jamestown Exposition. She is expected to reach Hampton Roads July 1st.

United States Consul Paddock, at Amoy, China, reported today to the State Department, that there are a large number of rebels there, and that the disaffection seems to be spreading among the Chinese natives. There is nothing in his dispatch to indicate that foreign interests are being affected by the uprising.

Naval Retirement Board, of which Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans is president, will convene in this city tomorrow for several days sessions for the purpose of designating what officers shall be retired under the retirement act. This act provides that 22 vacancies shall be created in the grades from captain down to lieutenant by June 30, of each year, in order to make room for promotions.

Although advices from China received by this government indicate that the present trouble has the complexion of an insurrection and is not demonstration of anti-foreign feeling, prompt steps have been taken, not only in anticipation that the rioting may take on an intemational complexion, but also to protect Americans and Americans interests in the zone of trouble.

Ambassador Jusserand today had a agreement between the United States and France along the same lines as that recently concluded with Germany. No details of the conference were made public.

Another Miners' Strike Imminent.

A strike of at least 40,000 coal miners in the Pittsburg Pa., district is looked for beginning tomorrow morning, and, unless the operators and workmen of the United Mineworkers of America come to a compromise the strike will surely occur, as the ultimatum has been sent to the operators that unless the new automatic steam, or shaker, dumps lately introduced at the mines of the district are taken out a strike will be inevitable.

In reply, the operators, headed by Francis L. Babbins, whose mines have been equipped with the new machinery, have sent word to the mineworkers to go softly; that if a strike should be declared and the mines forced to shut down they will never be reopened with the same workmen, nor will any of the striking workmen ever be allowed to work in any of the mines in the Pittsburg neighborhood again. Both sides seem ready for a strike and there is now every indication that it will come, and if so it will be a long struggle, for preparations have been going on for some years for this test of strength.

The workmen claim the machines will reduce their wages about 17 cents per ton. The steam, or shaker, dump is a contrivance used in separating different grades of coal, and the miners claim it works greatly against their interests in crediting them with work on the books. President Feehan, of the miners, and President Robbins, of the operators, each declared last night there will be no backdown.

Killed Sister and Herself.

As was stated in the Gazette the bodies of Carrie Lederbrand, seven years old, and her sister Cora, 17, daughters of Joseph Lederurand, a farmer, were found in Sugar creek, near Springfield, Ill., The girls left their home Wednesday afternoon and their father became alarmed at their absence from supper and sent out a search party. They found the dead bodies in Sugar creek, near their home, early yesterday. Each girl had a bullet hole in the right temple.

It is belived from evidence discovered that Cora Lederbrand shot her invalid sister Carrie and then killed herself.

It is thought that after Carrie was shot the body was thrown into the creek by Cora, who then shot herself and fell into the water.

The father of the girls, who found the bodies, said Cora had complained repeatedly about caring for her invalid sister, as it did not permit her to enjoy the companionship of other girls. The bullet wounds were in precisely the same relative position, in the temple. No other wounds were apparent.

The Pythians,

The annual session of the Grand Lodge of Virginia Knights of Pythias, which had been in session in Lynchburg, since Tuesday morning, adjourned yesterday afternoon, to meet next May at Clifton Forge. The question of the Hines memorial was referred to a committee, with instructions to consider at length during the coming year and make a report, with recommendations as to the form the memorial shall take.

News of the Day.

Secretary of War Taft, in an address to the millers at St. Louis yesterday, defended America's colonial policy.

The plant of the Waverly Paper Box Board Company, on Waverly Road at the foot of Weston avenue, Newark, N. J., was destroyed by fire early this morning. The loss is estimated at $80,000.

The famine which has prevailed in China for many weeks, causing hundreds of deaths and great suffering, has been broken. The corps are still thin, but the hot weather of the last month has been favorable to a good yield.

James R. Keene's Peter Pan and Superman, both sired by the Commando, ran first and second, respectively, in the Belmont Stakes, one mile and three furlongs, at Belmont Park yesterday. The race was worth $25,000 gross, of which Mr. Keene's share was $23,500.

After an existence of twelve years and three days, the Chicago Chronicle today suspended publication. The suspension of the paper is the outcome of the failure of the Chicago National Bank a year ago last December. John R. Walsh, president of the bank, was also practically the sole owner of the Chronicle, which he founded in 1895, just after selling the Chicago Herald property to James W. Scott.

Senator Foraker, in an address at Steubenville, Ohio, yesterday expressed the fear that the encroachments of the executive upon the legislative power would lead to a dictatorship. He spoke on presidential tendencies and "the man on horseback," and said the intelligent people of this country, in effect, will not allow a man whom they have placed in power to force a selection of his own choice as his successor. He defended the constitution and declared it is safeguard of national and individual liberty.

A dramatic scene took place in the Harlem N. Y., Police Court yesterday when Andrew Grady, father of pretty Elizabeth Grady, the girl victim of Policeman Theodore J. Hess, who was arrested Wednesday in Baltimore, sprang upon Hess as he was arraigned and tried to strangle him. "I'll kill you, you scoundrel," the father cried, as he leaped from his seat and caught Hess by the collar. Grady's eyes blazed with rage and he fought desperately when court officers and detectives held him back by main strength while Hess was hustled out of the court-room.

Two hundred stevedoers, employed by the Clyde Line Steamship Company at Philadelphia, today struck for higher wages. The men have been receiving 26 cents an hour both week days and Sundays. They now demand 25 cents on week days and 30 cents on Sundays. The men did not attempt violence and most of them left the pier after refusing to handle freight.

A dispatch from Havana says that a serious disturbance occurred today in Santiago province resulting in the death of three persons and the injury of many others. It is feared several of the wounded men will die.

Peace apparently has been fully restored in the labor war at Santiago.

MR. BRYAN.

William J. Bryan speaking at the Patrick Henry Day celebration at the Jamestown Exposition yesterday on the subject "Taxation Without Representation is Tyranny," made a plea for a harmonious democracy. Mr. Bryan dwelt at considerable length and art- the democratic presidential nomination. Congressman Lassiter, of the Fourth Virginia district, introducing Mr. Bryan, warmly indorsed Senator Daniel, and Mr. Bryan, in opening, said:

"I don't know whether my good friend expected me to use this occassion to join in the nomination of the candidate for president or not; I will say, though, that I join with him in the admiration he has expressed for Virginia's great son and stateman. And I have said time and again that section should not control the selection of our candidates.

"In fact, two years and a half ago, at St. Louis, I seconded the nomination of a man from Missouri—an ex Confederate soldier—when Virginia voted for a New York man.

"I have insisted that the time has come when the democracy of the Union should take in the whole Union, and that its selection should be made without regard to the State in which a man lives.

"We have more democrats in the north than you have in the South and you must not be too harsh with us if we have also the misfortune of having more republician voters in the north than you have in the South. It is not that there are too few of us; it is that there are too many of them and I would hardly be doing justice to the section from whidh I came if I did not tell you that it requires as much love of democracy to vote in the north, where they defeat us, as it requires down here to vote, where they elect you."

Mr. Bryan also touched on railroad regulation, saying the rate bill saved money for the railroads, which, on their part, were unwilling to share the increased profits with the public in accepting the various 2-cent-fare laws recently passed.

President Tucker, of the exposition, spoke on the life and character of Patrick Henry and its importance upon the history of the Colonies. Mr. Tucker then read the Patrick Henry stamp act resolutions in the Virginia house of burgesses, the reading being from the original draft.

Mrs. Reed, of Henry county, aged ninety-two, the oldest living descendant of Patrick Henry, was present, and attended the ceremonies of the day.

Episcopal Council Ends.

The Episcopal Council of the diocese of Southern Virginia came to a close yesterday in Trinity Church, Staunton. Delegates to the general convention, which meets in Richmond next October, were appointed as follows: Revs. J. J. Lloyd, C. B. Bryan, W. H. Milton, and R. C. Jett, with the following alternates: Revs. W. A. R. Goodwin, W. A. Barr, F. G. Scott, and A. C. Thompson. The lay delegates are W. B. Martin, E. W. Sansiders, R. E Withers, and W. W. Old; alternates C. B. Tunstall, Jacob Heffelfinger, W. W. Robertson, and C. J. Faulkner.

Rev. J. J. Lloyd, of Lynchburg, was made archdeacon for special missionary work in southwest Virginia. His salary was fixed at $2,000 per annum, with traveling expenses.

Rev. C. B. Bryan offered a resolution from the committee on colored work expressing opposition to the appointment of a special missionary bishop among the colored people. This was passed unanimously.

The State Board of Education has decided to publish a school journal for the benefit of the teachers of the department.

CONFEDERATE REUNION.

As stated in the Gazette of yesterday, the Confederate Reunion began in Richmond that day. There was nothing to mar the spirit of the occasion. The temperature was that which made the exercises comfortable in every way.

At 9:30 o'clock the United Confederate Veterans were called to order, prayer being offered by Rev. John William Jones, "the fighting parson." Gov. Swanson welcomed the veterans to Virginia amid the greatest enthusiasm, the waving of Confederate flags and the bands playing "Dixie" bringing the old men to their feet with yells that shook the building. Mayor Carlton McCarthy welcomed the visitors to the city.

Gen. Stephen D. Lee, commander-in-chief, then made an eloquent address that brought the veterans to their feet with cheers. He accepted for the veterans the hospitality of the State and city.

Practically the same programme was carried out at the meeting of the Sons of Confederate Veterans in the City Auditorium.

All the meetings were comparatively short, the naming of committees ending the sessions for the day. At 11:30 o'clock adjournment for the day was had, and preparations were begun for the parade incidential to the unveiling of the Gen. J. E. B. Stuart monument, which took place at 2:30 o'clock.

The parade formed at Capitol Square and moved out Grace street to Fifth, to Franklin, and to the monument. Veterans from every State were in line. The men marched slowly. Many of them are old and feeble.

Uniforms which had seen service in the war were much in evidence. Battle-flags carried by men who performed the same service on the field of battle were frequent. The line was a long one, with many thousands of people lining the route of march. Every comfort for the old men had been made. Water was at every corner, and scores of volunteer physicians were at hand to attend any case of sudden illness. Ambulances were in line for any emergency. Flags waved and bands played, the people cheered, and school children sang songs. It was an inspring sight.

The parade started at 2 o'clock, and at the monument the ceremonies began as the head of the column came up. At 2:30 o'clock the monument to the great cavalryman was exposed to view, amid salvos of artillery. Thousands of people yelled as the veil was drawn by little Miss Virginia Stuart Willer, a granddaughter of Gen. Stuart.

The ceremonies opened with prayer by Rev. Walter Q. Hullehen, of Staunton, who was a member of General Stuart's staff. Upon the platform were seated the orator of the day, Gen. Theodore S. Garnett, of Norfolk; Governor Swanson and his party and the several State and city officials, who participated actively in the ceremonies.

Major A. R. Venable, another of Stuart's staff officers, introduced General Garnett, who was received with tumultuous applause. Throughout his speech cheers and the "rebel yell" broke out frequently. Mayor Carlton McCarthy accepted the monument on behalf of the city.

Immediately following this the column dead were decorated with flowers by loving hands, the patriotic societies paying attention to the mound over each man.

A masterly address was delivered by Rev. Wilbourn Dudley Powers and listened to by thousands with bared heads, out of respect for the dead. Finally the salute to the dead was fired by the Richmond Light Artillery Blues. Taps were sounded and the exercises concluded with a benediction.

Never before has the city been so crowded. It is doubtless the last time that many of the old men will come here, and they are making the most of it, and the city is doing the honors with lavish hand.

Business is practically suspended while tribute is paid the memory of the dead and honor to the survivors.

Between 4 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon the ladies of the Richmond patriotic and historical organizations held a reception in honor of the visiting sponsors and other ladies from a distance representing memorial organizations.

The veterans met this morning in the Horse Show building, where eloquent speeches were made by Senator John W. Daniel and Col. Robert E. Lee, jr. At the Confederate Museum this evening a reception was held to the Confederate Veterans, Sons of Veterans, sponsors and maids of honor.

The Sons of Confederate Veterans held business meetings this morning and this evening in the City Auditorium and the Confederate Memorial Association held a meeting this morning.

Mr. Ryan.

Hon. John F. Ryan recently returned home suffering from a severe cold which temporarily incapaciated him for active canvassing for the nomination for Congress from this district. Some of the friends of his opponents have taken advantage of this to industriously circulate the report that he was "down and out" and would withdraw from the canvas. We are authorized to inform them that Mr. Ryan is in the field to stay until the last ballot is counted, and feels reasonably assured of success.—[Loudoun Mirror.

Mr. Ryan was in this city on Tuesday and then denied to a representative of the Gazette that he intended withdrawing from the congressional race. He added that the reports were started in the interest of his opponents.

The twelfth annual session of the Association of Surgeons of the Southern Railway ended in Washington yesterday by the election of the following officers: President, Dr. H. T. A. Lemon, of Washington; first vice president, Dr. C. H. Starkel; second vice president, Dr. T. H. Happel; historian, Dr. George Ross, and secretary-treasurer, Dr. J. U. Ray. Dr. F. R. Gobbell was elected to the executive committee. Birmingham Ala., was chosen as the next place of meeting. Many important questions relating to their calling were discussed by the surgeons during their meeting.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Rebellion in China.

Canton, China, May 31.—The city of Swatow is reported to be on the verge of capture by 10,000 rebellious Triads who are said to be marching on the city after eluding soldiers sent to intercept them. Reports from other quarters say the revolt is spreading over Kwang-Tung province.

A military force was recently dispatched from Swatow against the rebels, leaving the city practically defenseless except for several warships reported to be in the harbor.

The rebels so far have confined their depredations to killing civil and military officials. If warships reported to still be in Swatow harbor try to defend the city it is feared a massacre may follow in case the rebels capture the place.

Discouraging reports from other sections of Kwang-Tung province state that hundreds of dissatisfied Chinese are joining the rebels, and the revolt is assuming gigantic proportions.

A report from Amoy says that soldiers in several small towns nearby have mutined and joined the revolt. The defeat of a detachment of Triads yesterday by the troops with the loss of 100 men is said to have only aroused the rebels, and it is feared attacks will be made on villages throughout the province in retaliation for the punishment dealt out by the soldiers.

Amoy, China, May 31.—The revolt against the Manchu dynasty has spread to Fokien province and 30,000 men are now in arms at a point forty miles south of this city. The latest reports say the insurrection is spreading and it is feared the whole province will be affected.

Reports from the insurrection center state that the rebels are well armed and are ably commanded and officered. Detachments of the rebels, it is said, have been sent to surround the towns.

Fears are entertained that this small force can do nothing against the 30,000 men in the rebels camps.

Warships are expected here in the next day or two as it is feared an attack may be made on Amoy which is practically defenseless.

General Lee Addresses Veterans.

Richmond, Va., May 31.—Robert E. Lee, jr., nephew of General Robert E. Lee, addressed the United Confederate Veterans' Association in the Horse Show building today. He was received with tumultuous applause. Col. Lee never once mentioned the name of his distinguished family, but dwelt on the prowess of the southern soldiers,

Senator Daniels, of Virginia, made a war talk that set the crowd cheering wildly.

It was announced that on Monday at noon, when a statue of Jefferson Davis will be unveiled here, Seaboard Air line trains would be stopped five minutes all over the system.

Finds Body in Furnance.

Most atrocious murder or most remarkable suicide in the annals of Cincinnati police history was discovered in the furnace room of the Ryan soap factory today when the charred body of a man was dragged from the fire box by John McDemott, the engineer. All the circumstances point to murder. McDemott is now detained on suspicion. He says he started the fire in the furnace at 4:30, returned to the factory from his house across the street at 6:25 and at 6:30 returned to blow the whistle, when he saw a man's coat in the furnace room. From the fire box door stuck two feet and McDemott dragged out the charred body of a man. The flesh of the face and head were burned off and the arms burned to stumps. There was nothing on the man to identify him. To have been a suicide the man would have had to crawl into the roaring fire through an opening too small to enter without being forced.

Dangerous Lunatic at Large.

Norwich, N. Y., May 31.—This entire community is terrorized today owing to the fact that Fred. J. Day, an insane man, who escaped to the woods yesterday after badly injuring Neil D. Lewis, a deputy sheriff, and holding at bay a posse, is still at large. Day is regarded as an extremely dangerous man. Lewis is in a serious condition today and scant hope is entertained for his recovery. Officers had a fierce fight with Day at the time Lewis was hurt. Day had been warned they were after him and he barricaded himself in his house. He opened fire when the officers appeared and three bullets struck Lewis, two going through his body, while another hit him. Officers returned the fire and slightly wounded Day. He succeeded in getting away, however.

Strike May be Averted.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 31.—It is possible that the threatened strike by the miners of the Pittsburg district in which the Pate Steam Dump issued may be averted.

A meeting will be held this afternoon between the representatives of the companies who are using the steam dump and the officials of the United Mine Workers.

President Feehan stated today that the mines in which the Pate Steam Dump was still in use tomorrow and that this would be obeyed. If the dump is removed there will be no strike. If no settlement is effected the miners of the company that use the dump in any mine under their control.

Seamen's Strike.

Paris, May 31.—The contemplated general strike of seamen engaged in the merchant marine went into effect today. Reports from all the great French ports say that officers and sailors left their vessels yesterday. The strike was determined on by the defence committee of the National Seamen's Union, which is dissatisfied with the policy of the government in regard to pensions. At Marseilles the strike has tied up the port completely. Several liners are held up deserted at their docks. All the mails have been held up until the men returned to work and it is said these will be stopped by the strikers. Transports which the government has ordered ready for service may be used to carry these mails if they are interrupted.

A Significant Prayer.

"May the Lord help you make Bucklen's Arnica Salve known to all," writes J. G. Jenkins, of Chapel Hill, N. C. It quickly took the pain out of a felon for me and cured it in a wonderfully short time." Best on earth for sores, burns and wounds. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's, drug store.

The President in Michigan.

Lansing, Mich., May 31.—President Roosevelt reached Lansing at 10 a. m. Governor Warner, Senators Burrows and Smith, Representatives Tarsney, Smith and Denby and a large number of prominent citizens welcomed the President at the station and escorted him to the Capitol, where he held a reception in the Governor's office. After the reception the President stepped out on the balcony overlooking the city and made a brief address to a crowd of 10,000 or 15,000 people. He paid a special tribute to the old soldiers and a compliment to the national guards and the work its members are doing. Leaving the balcony, the President proceeded to the House chamber, where he delivered a short talk to the members and their guests. Governor Warner introduced him.

After the reception at the executive offices in the Capitol the President was escorted to luncheon and then to the Agricultural College, three miles away, where he delivered an address to the graduating class.

The principal feature of the day was the presence of President Roosevelt at the semi-centennial celebration of the founding of agricultural colleges in the United States. He received a grand ovation.

The President in the course of his speech referred to the fact that Michigan was the first State to found an agricultural college, and he greeted the representatives of all such colleges who had gathered today at Lansing He dwelt at some length on the educational facilities afforded throughout the United States and the opportunities placed before all who have the energy to push ahead in the march of life. The President subsequently devoted his attention to existing industrial conditions, and made divers observations and suggestions. He went into an extensive review of the mechanical and agricultural interests of the country, and made homely suggestions concerning the duties of those engaged in these pursuits.

Secretary Wilson of the Agricultural Department also spoke. Among other he said:

"The producers from the soil are the nation's jury, when questions of public policy are to be settled. When the professions need quiet nerve and capacity for study and strain, the farmer is in request. As a people we are quite successful in governing in the country; the city perplexed. Good farming is the basis of bank accounts in our country. Fill the pupil's stomach before you teach altruism, and see that the teacher has had beefsteak for breakfast."

Fighting the Oil Trust.

Findlay, O., May 31.—The State of Ohio, according to a decision of the Circuit Court handed down today, won the first round of its battle against the Standard Oil trust. The case is that of the State of Ohio on relation of Wade H. Ellis, Attorney General, with the Buckeye Line Company in mandamus to compel the latter company to establish reasonable rates for the transportation of oil and to accept all oil offered by independents. The company acknowledged that it was organized under the laws of Ohio and the court says it must abide by them and furnish of oil and at a fair rate. The case will be tried on its merits on the next term of the Circuit court.

Established an Alibi.

New York, May 31.—Despite all efforts to implicate Leon Graham, now being held for attempted assault on 5-year old Mamie Luck, with the murder of Amelia Staffeldt, it was stated today that the prisoner has established a complete alibi. Graham's story as to his whereabouts on the day of the Staffeldt girl's murder has been investigated by the police and they think he had nothing to do with the murder and was not an accomplice of Henry Becker, who is being held for the grand jury charged with the crime. When arrested for the attempted assault Graham denied all knowledge of the Staffeldt murder, and stated that he had been working all that day. This story was investigated and found to be correct.

Seven Killed in Collision.

Elyria, O., May 31.—Seven persons are dead, another is fatally injured, and seven are in a dangerous condition as the result of the rear end collision last night between two traction cars. A motorman in charge of the rear car was arrested today and lodged in jail here on a charge of manslaughter.

Judge Washburn has called fifteen leading citizens of the county to serve on the grand jury at 1 p. m. today to investigate the C., S. and C. wreck.

"The civil liability of a company for damages is not sufficient protection to the public," said he today. "These accidents are too frequent. We will determine who is responsible for this and whether it was a crime."

Four Lives Lost at Fire.

Long Branch, N. J., May 31—Three bodies were taken from the ashes of the Jacob Rothschild villa and one person died from injuries sustained in the fire early today making a total of four dead and eight injured Walter A. Schiffer, secretary of the United Sugar Manufacturers' Company, moved into the cottage a week ago. His two daughters are dead and his wife is believed to be fatally injured. The remains of two female servants were found in the ruins.

The New York Stock Market.

New York, May 31.—The market was strong from the opening and in the first hour made advances ranging from small fractions up to 3 points, the greatest gains being made in Reading. The President's speech was generally regarded as a bull factor and brokers said there was a decided improvement in the sentiment.

A selling wave struck the market in the afternoon that carried prices in nearly all the active issues down from 1 to over 2 points causing general weakness and the market went below Wednesday's close.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Midgets Case.

The case of George Midgets, alias Wm. Johnson, convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of Chas T Smith on the night of October 20, 1906, and which is now pending in the Court of Appeals on a writ of error and supersedas to the judgment of the Corporation Court of this city, has created considerable controversy. During the trial a number of exceptions were taken to the rulings of the court. The principal exception, and the one on which, it is supposed, the writ of error was granted, is the motion for a change of venue. This motion is based upon section 4036 of the code, which is as follows:

That whenever the mayor of any city shall call on the governor for a military force to protect the accused from violence, that the judge of the Corporation Court having jurisdiction of the offence, shall, upon petition signed and sworn to by the accused, whether the accused be present or not, at once order the venue to be changed to a Corporation Court or a Circuit Court of a county sufficiently remote from the place where the offence was committed to insure the safe and impartial trial of the accused.

The mayor of this city called upon the governor for the military force to protect the accused on Saturday, March 23, 1907, and the military accompanied Midgets to this city on Monday, March 25th. Midgets could have made his motion when the military force was called for, but this he did not do. His presence for the purpose was not necessary; he could have made this motion when he reached this city, and the motion would have been granted. When his trial was called he failed again to make the motion, but moved for a continuance. When this motion was overruled, he demurred to the indictment and also moved to quash the indictment, which demurrer and motion to quash the court overruled, and it was not until after the questions had been passed upon adversely to the accused, that he undertook to avail himself of his right under section 4036. The commonwealth contends that the motion for a change of venue came too late. The accused had his right to ask for a change of venue as soon as the military force was called for by the mayor, but having failed to avail himself of the right, and having willingly and voluntarily waived that right by making the motions referred to, he could not be permitted to trifle with the court or sleep upon his rights. The commonwealth further contends that the bills of exception were not signed by the judge of the court in the proper time, and that the writ of error will be dismissed.

The bills of exceptions are signed April 25, 1907, but the minute book of the court nowhere shows that the bills were ever signed. Section 3385 of the code gives the judge the right to sign bills of exceptions either during the term of the court or in vacation within thirty days after the end of such term. The March term adjourned on April 6 and the April term began on April 8. These bills should have been signed during the March term, or in vacation between April 6 and 8. The Court of Appeals has decided this question in a recent case, Hoover et als., vs. Saunders, 104 Va., p. 703, holding that the judge's power to sign the bills did not extend beyond the vacation of the court, and if signed after that time the writ of error would be dismissed. As the April term began on the 8th day of April the judge had no authority to sign them on the 25th day of April.

Charged with Stealing Whisky.

Peter Kitts, colored, was arrested yesterday by Officer Henderson on suspicion of entering the saloon on the southeast corner of Princess and Fairfax streets last Saturday night and stealing about $15 worth of bottled whisky. Kitts was distributing liquor of the brand which had been stolen to some of his companions on Sunday. In his defense, the prisoner said he had purchased the whisky at different places, and the case was continued until Officers Henderson and Bell could interview the proprietors of the saloons and see if they could corroborate Kitts's statements. They soon returned and reported that the proprietors did not sell the accused whisky Saturday or any other day, as they did not allow him on their premises. Justice Caton in summing up the case said the fact that the prisoner had the goods in his possession would not substantiate the charge of housebreaking and he would fine him for petit larceny. He was accordingly assessed $20, and upon failing to pay that amount Kitts will take his place on the chain gang.

Musical at St. Mary's Academy.

Wednesday, May 29, Misses Freda Cowhig and Sarah Patterson gave a charming musical entertainment at St. Mary's, only the faculty and graduating class being present. It marked the close of a successful study of the "National Graded Course" in music which the two talented musicians have been pursuing for the past three years with the view of securing the gold medal awarded at the completion of the seven grades by the Hatch Music Company. That they have done hard and conscientious work was evinced by their artistic rendition of a long and difficult programme, and their many friends in Alexandria have reason to congratulate them on being the first in the city to enter upon and successfully finish the arduous "National Course" in music.

Sent to Jail.

Levi Welch, white, and Lizzie Welch, colored, were before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning charged with violating section 3783 by marrying in another state and returning to Virginia to live as man and wife. The evidence failed to show that it was the purpose of the accused to become domiciled in this State, and the charge was dismissed and the woman released. Welch, however, was arraigned to answer a charge preferred by Wash. Jackson, colored, who alleged that the prisoner in February, 1905, had boarded with him and left his house owing $14 for entertainment. He was sent to jail for thee months for this offense.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Peter Kitts, colored, charged with petit larceny, was fined $20.

John Jones, colored, charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, was fined $5

Ten colored boys, charged with disorderly conduct and throwing stones in the street, were fined 50 cents each.

A white and a colored man, charged with maintaining nuisances on their premises, were fined $2 each.

Levi Welch, charged with defrauding a boarding house, was sent to jail for three months.

Fined Twenty Dollars.

On the night of the 20th instant a man living in the Third ward was arrested charged with assaulting his landlord and with allowing his dog to bite his victim. The landlord was bitten on one of his ankles by the dog, and did not appear when the case was called next morning, and an investigation was deferred until this morning. The trouble, it seems, arose over a claim for rent. The tenant had proceeded to the residence of his landlord where the assault took place. The accused stated in his defense that the landlord started to pick up a chair when he struck him twice. The dog in the meantime bit the landlord. Justice Caton fined the accused $20.

Won by Mr. Smith.

At the Belmont Park race course on yesterday, the amateur cup was won by Mr. Courtland H. Smith, of Virginia. He rode Master of Craft. The amateur cup, a highweight selling race, in which gentleman riders had the mount, has long been a feature of the Westchester Racing Association's spring meeting, and has always been a strong drawing card with the society set. There were seven starters, and, says the New York Morning Telegraph, "Master of Craft; always close to the pace, and well ridden by Mr. Smith, took the lead to win easily enough by a length and a half."

Epworth League.

There will be an Epworth League anniversary service in Trinity M. E Church this evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. J. N. R. Sumwalt, the new presiding elder, will make the address. Mr. Sumwalt is a very energetic and forceful speaker, and those who hear him will be well pleased. The young men's choir of the Baptist Church, under the leadership of Mr. Preston, will have charge of the singing. All are invited to be present.

A Funny Chicken.

A colored woman in Fairfax county has a peculiar chicken—one which is half rooster and half hen, but which is neither. On one side of its bill is a rooster's gill and on the other it has that of a hen; on only one leg is a spur and the color of the chicken is different on each side. It keeps away from other chickens and flocks all to itself and altogether is a remarkable fowl.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Ann Struder, who died at her home on Seminary Hill on Wednesday, took place at 9 o'clock this morning at the residence. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Wallis and the interment was made in Bethel cemetery.

The summer hours of the Alexandria Library commence on Saturday, June 1st. They will be every Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30 and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights from 7:30 to 9:30.

Rear-end Collision.

Crowded with holiday passengers, a Cleveland and Southwestern trolley car running from Wellington to Cleveland, Ohio, was struck by another car on the same line which was following the same car at Sixth street and Middle avenue Elyria, shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday evening, resulting in at least two deaths and eleven persons being injured. Two of those injured will probably die.

The accident occurred not more than a block from the City Hospital. The wrecked car had slowed down at Fifth and Middle streets to allow three passengers to get off. The rear platform was crowded with passengers, and while waiting for the passengers to alight, a car which was trailing crashed into the first car crushing and mangling those on the rear platform and injuring several others.

Ambulances and a dozen automobiles were quickly upon the scene and the work of extricating the bodies of the dead and rescuing the wounded was begun.

Land Agitation in Ireland.

The latest phase of the land agitation in the congested districts of Ireland is taking the form of a crusade against the holders of grazing farms on the 11-month lease system, and is developing with great rapidity and intensity.

Roscommon, Kings county, and North Tipperary are the centers of lawlessness. In bygone times these localities saw many evictions, and yesterday the peasants were determined that the land should be re-distributed to small holders.

Reports are received daily of the gathering of large bands of peasants, who destroy gates and fences and clear the grazing ranches of cattle, which they drive back over miles of country to the farms of the owners. In two cases men who had leased ranches were compelled to abandon their buildings because of intimidation.

The authorities have drafted large forces of police into the disturbed districts, with the result that there have been some serious conflicts between the police and the peasants, and many persons on both sides have been injured. There have been numerous prosecutions, but the sympathy with the aims of the peasants is so strong that in one or two instances even the magistrates have declined to concur in the conviction of the disturbers of the peace, one magistrate even going to the extent of declaring himself ready to go to prison with the defendant.

Plumbers to Return to Work.

The nonunion plumbers employed on the new municipal building, the Metropolitan Club, and the Park road houses, in Washington, who were forced to leave their work some weeks ago because the members of the Building Trades Mechanics' Council refused to work with nonunion men, will return to work. This is one result of the agreement reached at the joint conference of the representatives of the Building Trades Mechanics' Council with the executive board of the Employers' Association Wednesday night.

It was decided that, pending the final decision of the board of arbitrators, the union mechanics called off the Metropolitan Club and the buildings of Middaugh & Shannon on Park road be returned to work this morning. The building trades opposed this motion, and the vote resulted in a tie, the Employers' Association voting solidly for it and the building trades voting solidly against it. James F. Oyster, the referee, rendered his decision in favor of the employers.

In giving his decision, Capt. Oyster reviewed the trouble in all its phases, and said that there was nothing to show in any agreement existing between the employers and the employes that there should be union men employed to the exclusion of nonunion men.
